

High Volume: Cameron Hughes Wine

Cameron Hughes Wine has a simple philosophy – great wine doesn't have to be expensive. As a wine trader, rather than a wine producer, their mission is to provide the finest wine at the best price possible.

Cameron Hughes Wine has been in business since 2001. The company specializes in the acquisition and marketing of fine wines, sourced from around the world, under their own labels. Today, Cameron Hughes Wine sells through retail locations, wholesalers, and via an online store. Additionally, they manage a wine club program that provides monthly or quarterly shipments to their customers at a discounted rate from a list price.

Managing High-Volume Transactions

Like many high-volume businesses, Cameron Hughes Wine has a unique set of challenges. Their customers expect to buy high-quality product at discounted prices. But from a business perspective, the success of this model is based not only on consistent quality but also on a finely-tuned retail exchange in order to bring a dependable value to their customers, whether they are first-time buyers or long-time wine club members.
